

The mass killing of bears is not a solution to any problem. This is a crime in nature. If people want to hunt moose and caribou they should go somewhere else. They can live without hunting moose for sport. Bears are important for our environment as they are top of the food chain and eliminating the top of the food chain can cause great harm to the surrounding ecosystem.