

Stop this mass killing of bears as it is crucial for maintaining ecological balance and protecting biodiversity. Bears play a vital role in our ecosystems, helping to regulate prey populations and disperse seeds. Continued killing for sport threatens their survival and can lead to long-term environmental damage. Stronger enforcement of wildlife protection laws and global cooperation is essential to ending this practice. By protecting bears, we are also protecting the forests and natural systems they help sustain. This is downright inhumane, selfish and has great future impact.
